This was a three part meeting. The first part consisted of three breakout sessions involving cabinetry, access and security, and acoustics. Joe Kotulak reviewed cabinetry with those interested. Randy Milbraith brought equipment so members could hear updated acoustics, and Travis Barrett asked for input on where to have locked doors, keypads etc.

The second part of the meeting was the review of an updated budget from Sampson Construction. Not a lot of time was spent on it, as it was more of an FYI and will be dealt with in greater detail at a future meeting.

The third part consisted of materials update. RDG brought in additional samples so there was a larger footprints to review. They did make a change to the carpet in the office area, and it was an improvement over the original choice, as it ties in closer to carpet in the existing office area. There was concern on the flooring choice underneath the pews, as it was very light and would show dirt, so RDG will look at alternatives.
